

Clyde Fouse Hope Rotary Club Speaker

One of the Hope Rotary Club's newer members, Jim Pruden, gave a brief personality sketch of himself at the club meeting on Friday, November 25 in accordance with the current practice. Club Vice-President Clyde Fouse had a program on the fantastic oceans of the world and the treasures and problems they hold for mankind.

Mr. Fouse spoke of untold raw materials to be found on the floor of the oceans, the threat to the fishing industry posed by waste disposal, and the improvement of diving equipment used for underwater exploration. During a question-and-answer period the subject of submarine storms was mentioned as well as other related topics.

President Paul Klipsch welcomed Secretary of State Kelly Bryant whose Rotary membership is still with the Hope club. Other guests were Phil McLarty and Frank Hannon of Staten Island, N. Y., students at LSU.

Teachers End Strike at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Classes were resumed for public school pupils here today as striking members of the Youngstown Federation of Teachers returned to the classrooms after an agreement for a collective bargaining election in 1968.

The election will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association and will determine whether the federation or the Youngstown Education Association represents classroom teachers.

The association's contract as bargaining agent for the teachers expires in 1968.

Jews Quit Passion Play for Britain

By GODFREY ANDERSON
LONDON (AP) — Britain will get a chance to see an English-language version of the famed Oberammergau passion play next year despite a row over the fact that a Jewish impresario is presenting it.

Philip Solomon, of Dunedin Theatrical Productions Ltd., who also is executive director of the pirate radio station, Radio Caroline, obtained rights for presenting a shortened version of the play in Britain, Ireland and the United States, along with Vic Lewis and Brian Epstein of Nem Enterprises. All three are Jews. The firm manages Britain's famed pop singing group, the Beatles.

Immediately upon learning of the deal, the Board of Deputies of British Jews strongly condemned any Jew for taking part in such a promotion. The board also echoed the condemnation of Jews in Germany who had assailed the passion play on the grounds it has an anti-Semitic tone.

Lewis and Epstein promptly withdrew, Epstein said. "I have withdrawn because I will not give offense to Jewish communities here or anywhere else."

Solomon said he would go ahead with plans to bring the play to England but intended to see there was nothing anti-Jewish in it. There is a clause in his contract with the Germans, he pointed out, "completely ruling out anything anti-Semitic."

The producer of the play over here will be Lothar Bock of Munich and the new text of the shortened version, lasting 2½ hours instead of eight, will be compiled in German by Jochen Blume, a German stage and television director. Music will be composed by Herman Thiele.

Colonel of Viet Cong Defector

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese military command today displayed a man it said was the highest ranking Viet Cong to defect. He was identified as Lt. Col. Le Xuan Chuyen, alias Thanh Son.

Government military spokesmen said the 37-year-old man gave himself into government hands on Aug. 2 because "he was not satisfied with his assignment as well as the Communist political stand."

Wearing a white, short-sleeved shirt and blue-gray trousers, Chuyen was presented to newsmen at the regular military Vietnamese military briefing. Spokesmen said he had been a member of the Communist party 20 years, but he explained he had joined when the organization was known as the Indochinese Workers party.

A government statement said Chuyen joined the Viet Minh army in 1945 and in 1960 was promoted to lieutenant colonel.

Elrod said that a "committee on committees" had been formed long before the governor's election and the lieutenant governor's election.

Elrod said that the committee was formed by members of the Senate to make organizational appointments, including committee assignments, in the next Senate.

Republican Maurice (Footsie) Britt, winner in the lieutenant governor's race, said Saturday that he will meet with the committee today.

Britt said the Republicans were investigating the situation but only to make sure that nothing was improper.

Elrod said that each senator would be asked to make his committee preferences known to the committee on committees. Previously, the senators have made known their preferences to the lieutenant governor and normally the requests have been honored.

Denies Slap at Incoming Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Russell Elrod of Siloam Springs says that the formation of a committee to take over some of the tasks previously performed by the lieutenant governor "is not a slap at anybody."

Elrod said that a "committee on committees" had been formed long before the governor's election and the lieutenant governor's election.

Village Is Given Boom by Rocketry

ROME (AP) — A village in a central Sardinian mountainland so bleak it doesn't even have bandits has become a modern small town — thanks to modern rocketry and missiles.

The village's improbable name of Perdaxefogu may have been an omen. In Sard dialect it means "lost fire."

Ten years after the remote hamlet was chosen as the site for Italy's missile study center, with test launching pads at nearby Alto di Quirra, its 2,000 oldtime residents can hardly recognize the place. Its population has doubled.

All of the new residents working at the center has made the old water system inadequate. A new aqueduct is planned and a new road will link the growing village to Cagliari in the south and Nuoro to the north.

The town is fast growing away from one of the main reasons it was selected. The region was so remote that there were almost no dwellings in the barren hills nearby that might be endangered if missiles misfired or went out of control. Now building is booming.

Yanks Get Lawyers in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Americans facing trial in Leningrad have chosen their lawyers from the Leningrad Bar Association, the U.S. Embassy said today.

Craddock M. Gilmour Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah, selected Dyodor S. Rozhdestvensky to defend him against a charge of violating Soviet currency regulations.

Ray Buel Wortham Jr. of North Little Rock, Ark., chose Semyon A. Khayfets to defend him against a currency charge and also a charge of stealing an antique statue of a bear from a Leningrad hotel.

The two men, each 25 and former U.S. Army lieutenants, were arrested Oct. 1 as they were trying to drive out of the Soviet Union. A date for their trial has not been made public.

Jayne Stays at Bedside of Her Son

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jayne Mansfield says she will stay at Conejo Valley Hospital until her 6-year-old son — mauled by a lion Saturday — is out of danger.

"He asked me for a snake and a kangaroo rat," Miss Mansfield, 32, said Sunday. "That shows that he can get his mind off his injuries."

Zoltan, her son by her former husband, Mickey Hargitay, a movie strongman, was bitten in the neck and back of the head when he tried to pet a chained lion.

Hospital officials said Zoltan was in fair condition a day after emergency surgery. No further surgery is planned, they said.

Members of The Salvation Army call prayer meetings "kneedrill." Instead of dropping money in a plate, they "fire a cartridge."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Fame Is the Name of the Game" a two-hour motion picture made for initial television broadcast, proved to be very satisfactory viewing in many ways.

The NBC broadcast Saturday night was a bright, slick retread of one of the most familiar plots in movieland. It was of particular interest inside the industry because it may start a trend now that the supply of old movies is running low. After NBC has shown the million-dollar movie several times, it will be released for theater distribution.

The story line was as old as the talkies: The intrepid, wise-cracking star reporter who talks back to his boss, confounds the cops and solves the murder. It was spiced with blackmail, illicit love affairs, fights, gunplay and nightclub scenes, but the dialogue and the musical score were modern.

Because it was made for television's small screens, there were plenty of closeups and large, busy scenes were avoided. It was designed to fit the time period and to accommodate the breaks for commercials. At no time did the viewer feel that some editor had chopped out an important hunk of plot to make room for a sales pitch.

There were some engaging people, too. Tony Franciosa played the star reporter eager for the scoop as if he had invented the character. Jill St. John, the beautiful blonde temptress, may have telegraphed the windup by her aggressive behavior but she added some zing to the business.

The show must be counted as a successful experiment. It was not a major motion picture, but it was lively, gay and held one's attention to the end. The real name of the game is entertainment — and this one filled the bill.

ABC's "Scope" which has concentrated for almost a year on the Viet Nam conflict, almost timidly showed excerpts Saturday from an off-Broadway protest play, "Viet Rock," violently anti-war and anti-Viet Nam war particularly.

NBC's "Pearl Harbor" documentary Sunday was partly a memoir of the attack and, more importantly, a resume of where we are and what we have done since that day. It was a curiously disquieting summary, touching on matters ranging from nuclear terror to the Beatles, and full of irony and adding up to nothing very excited except, perhaps the Peace Corps.

The F. C. Crows spent Thanksgiving in Ft. Smith with Dr. and Mrs. Neil E. Crow and family and went to Lufkin, Tex., for the weekend with other relatives.

A2-c Orville Dean Steadman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ray Steadman, and Staff Sgt. Bill Cox have returned to their base in Roswell, New Mexico after visiting with friends and relatives during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Paul Kilpsch, Harry Whitworth, and Dr. Emmett Thompson went to Little Rock Saturday for the Shrine ceremonial highlighted by the induction of the Quinn Glover Appreciation Class.

Frank Hannon, Staten Island, N. Y., spent Thanksgiving with his LSU roommate, Phil McLarty, and Mr. and Mrs. James McLarty.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

CAROLYN HAMM

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hamm announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Sue, to William Fred Dearing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dearing, also of Hope.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Hope High School and is presently employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The groom-elect is a graduate of Spring Hill High School and is employed by J-4 Parts and Supply.

The wedding will be an event of December 9.

Kennedy influence and the use of television for campaigning has completely altered politics in this country.

"It's the women who have brought this about. They vote largely on a candidate's appearance, and they will naturally favor a handsome, clean-cut man over an older, less appealing one. That's why Robert Taft could never have been elected president: He looked too much like a little old schoolteacher."

What actors have learned about presenting themselves to the public can be adopted by politicians, he declares — "and by businessmen, too, because older men are constantly being pressed by younger, more appealing men in business."

Westmore's primary advice: Look to your hair, men.

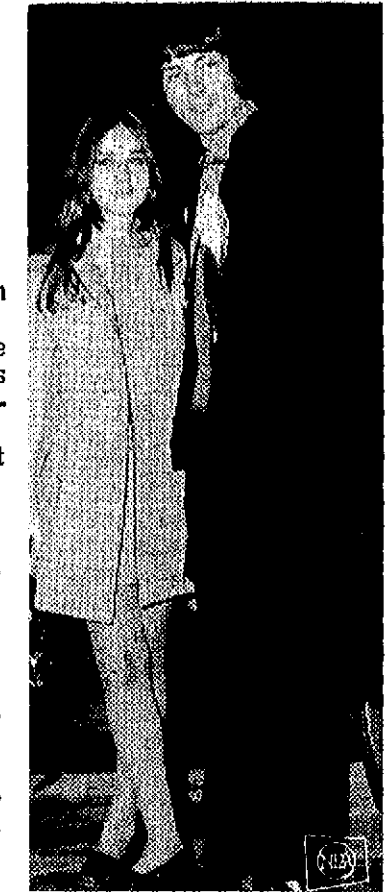

"The Kennedys have proved how hair can do wonders for a politician's image," he remarked. "Nowadays every politician should have his hair styled to bring out the best in his appearance."

For instance, Richard Nixon. His problem is the wide jaw. That line could be softened if he would lower his sideburns a quarter of an inch or so and build out the hair on the side of his head."

This matter of hair styling for men is not as fancy-dandyish as it sounds at first. Westmore reported that the nation's barbers are now coming around to what he and other makeup artists have long been doing for actors: fitting the hair to the individual head.

ABSOLUTELY NOTHING
NEW YORK (AP) — A moving, blinking, colorful noise-making creation of bamboo, birds, door knobs, lamp shades, playing cards and measuring tape promises to be the "ultimate" development in the computer field. What does the Honeywell-Emmett Forget-Me-Not, the brainchild of Rowland Emmett, England's celebrated cartoonist, do that no other computer can claim — absolutely nothing!!!!

COUNT Stanislaus de Rola, 24, a French pop singer, has reportedly proposed to miniskirted Romina Power, 15, daughter of the late actor Tyrone Power. The attractive youngster allegedly said she and her mother, Linda Christian, felt she should wait awhile before accepting the offer of the count, who is billed as the "Pop Prince."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

LIKES BEING NEARSIGHTED

Dear Helen: My wife she is nearsighted. Says she likes it that way. She had glasses once—still has them around somewhere—but she wouldn't wear them. Says the world got harsh and people looked terrible to her. She doesn't drive, so I can't force her. She sees fine up close, but this is the last straw: Other day she shaved her legs without a blade in the razor, and didn't know it until I told her! She put it down to absent-mindedness, but I think otherwise.

How can women be so dumb? —FERD

Dear Ferd: It's easy. But... Only another nearsighted female could understand that the world really DOES look better fuzzy, and people in it are much nicer looking when slightly out of focus.

If your wife thinks she's missing anything, she'll wear her glasses. Stop worrying.—H.

Dear Helen: Women have always been the enigma to humanity. But the young male is beginning to offer competition. Frankly we women can't understand them.

We're in our middle 20's, career girls, not especially anxious to get married, but we like male company. What happens? We get the "Let's have lunch sometime" treatment—which means they waste our time at the office, talking, flirting, using up coffee breaks (and we often buy the coffee), but they never take us out, even to lunch!

Or else, they do give us a rush—for maybe two weeks. Then in the midst of the enchantment, whoof, they're gone. No explanation, they just don't call any more.

We Janes are left wondering "What did we do wrong?" "Is it us, or them?"

At "girl talk" sessions we discover it happens to all of us, and, really, we aren't repulsive, overaggressive, standoffish, or disagreeable.

Would any of you males arise and tell us "what makes you run?" Are they competing for title of "Playboy of the Western World," or are they just scared?—A JANE

Dear Jane: You didn't ask my opinion, but I'll state it anyway: They "run" from Jane to Jane because... too many Janes have made themselves too, too available. Why should he settle for Brand X when he can choose from so many free samples? You gals have made bachelors the ideal state for the male, and the more you compete for him the smarter he becomes at avoiding the trap.

Of course you won't get this answer from them, Jane. They're not about to let the truth spoil a good thing.—H.

Dear Helen: We're newly married and buying a home. Not much extra for Christmas presents. My husband's folks are well-to-do, and I know they'll give us an expensive gift. My parents are putting two kids through college and we've agreed to have a moratorium on Christmas presents this year—just little handmade "remembrances."

But if we give HIS parents this sort of thing they'll think we're cheap. If I buy an expensive gift for them MY folks may be hurt. What to do?—ARLA

Dear Arla: Why not suggest the same moratorium for both sets of parents? I'm sure your husband's folks will understand and be most happy with your handmade remembrances.—H.

Washington, St. Louis Win in National

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This was the National Football League on a whacky Sunday afternoon:

The Washington Redskins walked the New York Giants, 72-41, in a record-setting romp.

Then there was St. Louis' 6-3 field goal victory over Pittsburgh—a finesse victory.

Washington Coach Otto Graham pushed his Redskins into the NFL record book with three seconds left when he sent in Charlie Gogolak for a 29-yard field goal that erased Los Angeles' 16-year record of 70 points in a single game.

"In a crazy game like this," shrugged Graham, "what's another three points?"

For the Cardinals, three more points can mean the difference between a victory and a defeat. St. Louis moved into a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference despite the fact that they went without a touchdown for the second straight week.

In other games Sunday, Green Bay opened a two-game lead in the Western Conference with only three games to play by beating Minnesota 28-16 while Los Angeles was stunning Baltimore 23-7. Chicago defeated Atlanta 23-6.

Defensive back Brig Owens scored two touchdowns and set up two others as the Redskins took the Giants apart. Washington's A. D. Whitfield scored three times and Charlie Taylor twice as the two teams combined for a record-smashing 16 touchdowns and 113 points. New York's Gary Wood threw for three TDs and ran for a fourth.

Jim Bakken kicked field goals from 26 and 15 yards out for the Cardinals, who have won three of their last four games by a total of 13 points. Mike Clark booted one from 47 yards for the Steelers.

Defensive back Herb Adderley was the hero for the Packers, partially blocking a punt to set up one touchdown and then intercepting a Fran Tarkenton pass to choke off a late Minnesota comeback.

Green Bay was protecting a 21-16 lead with two minutes left when Adderley picked off Tarkenton's pass after the Vikings had moved to midfield. Moments later, rookie Jim Grabowski raced 36 yards with the wrapup touchdown.

Los Angeles gave the Packers a boost by knocking off Baltimore—the Colts' second loss in as many weeks. The Rams limited Gary Cuozzo and a sub-par Johnny Unitas to only nine completed passes. Unitas, who injured his right shoulder two weeks ago and suffered five interceptions last Sunday, played only briefly in the second half and lost 20 yards passing.

Dick Bass jolted the Colts for 126 yards in 30 carries while Baltimore's running game managed only 33 yards in 18 attempts against Los Angeles' front wall.

Gale Sayers, running over a mud-soaked field, shredded Atlanta defenses for 172 yards in 19 carries as the Bears defeated the Falcons. Sayers also gained 63 yards on five passes.

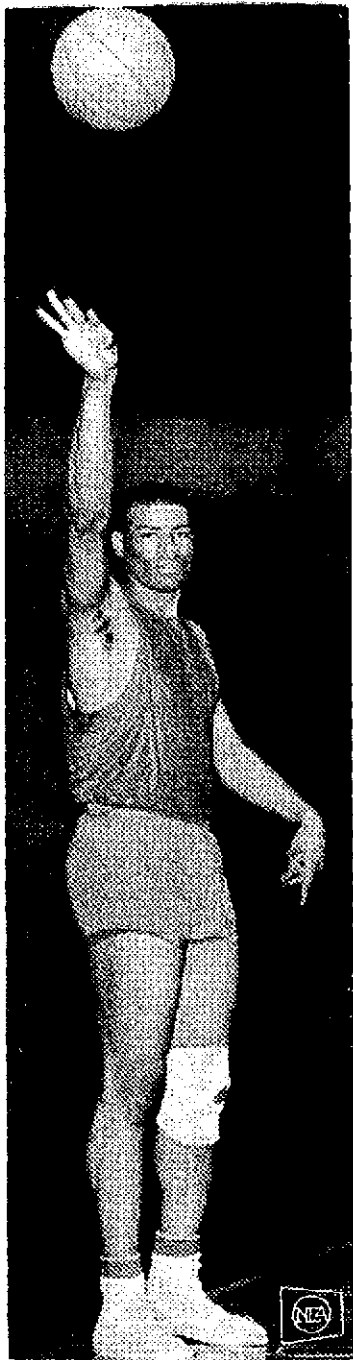

Fleming Leads New York to Win

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Reg Fleming has hooked up with a winning combination...and the robust Ranger would rather fight than switch.

Fleming, the National Hockey League's penalty king, supplied both the fist fireworks and the scoring punch Sunday night as New York trampled the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0 for its third straight victory.

The squat, 193-pound battler, who has teamed with veterans Boom Boom Geoffrion and Earl Ingarfield on the Rangers' most productive attacking unit in recent weeks, scored two second-period goals after engaging Kent Douglas of the Leafs in a first-period slugfest.

LOUISVILLE'S Westley Unseld is one of the nation's best college centers, but All-American honors at center this season will come tough for anyone whose name isn't Lew Alcindor.

3 Records Broken by Jim Jordan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ouchita quarterback Jim Jordan, who broke three 16-year-old Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference records, was the leader among five players who gained more than 1,000 yards in total offense this season, according to final statistics.

Jordan set standards for passing yardage, completions and total offense. The marks were held by Cedro Anderson of Arkansas A&M and all were set in 1950.

Jordan, a senior from Camden, gained a total of 1,607 yards in 10 games, including 1,417 yards passing. His passing yardage was 267 more than that recorded by Anderson and his total offense mark was 17 yards better. Jordan completed 104 passes, 15 more than Anderson did 16 years ago.

The other members of the 1,000-yard club were Bobby Tiner of Arkansas State Teachers College with 1,321 yards; freshman Gary Tate of Arkansas A&M with 1,273; Walt Lowe of Henderson with 1,115 and Stanley May of Southern State with 1,113 yards.

Southern State only played eight games. ASTC, A&M and Henderson played nine-game schedules.

Freshman Frank Richardson of Osceola helped ASTC to a share of the AIC title and led the league in rushing with 826 yards. Ouchita's Johnny Johnson topped the scorers with 72 points.

Henderson's Gus Robey was the top pass receiver, catching 52 for 825 yards. Harding's Harry Lisle led in kickoff returns with a 28.8 average and Southern State's Jim Leonard was the top punt returner, averaging 14.9 yards per return. A&M's Dickie Dunn was the top punter with a 39.3 average. Ouchita allowed only 259.9 yards per game, best in the league. Southern State was the top offensive team with a 350-yard per game average.

Victory over the Black Hawks. Stan Mikita, the league's individual point leader, scored three goals as the Hawks rebounded Sunday night with a 5-4 decision over Boston.

In the other Saturday game, Montreal trimmed Detroit 3-1.

Michigan State football squad member Bobby Smith, who was named MVP, was named MVP of the game. Smith, who was named MVP of the game, was named MVP of the game.

Alabama Bids for No.1 in Auburn Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It appears as if Alabama, the only major unbeaten and untied team, will shoot the works against Auburn at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday in an effort to retain the national collegiate football championship.

The Crimson Tide ranked third behind Notre Dame and Michigan State in last week's Associated Press poll. The Sugar Bowl-bound Tide has a 9-0-0 record to 9-0-1 for Notre Dame and Michigan State.

"I just wish the players and I knew what the people who vote wanted and we'd do it," Bear Bryant, Alabama coach, said Saturday after Alabama crushed Southern Mississippi 34-0 at Mobile and Notre Dame routed Southern California 51-0 at Los Angeles.

"This is by far the best college football team I've ever had and it's the best college team I've ever seen," said Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian after the Irish had rebounded from their 10-10 tie with Michigan State to drub the Trojans.

"This is our most important victory," Parseghian said. "I think our team demonstrated it is No. 1."

Now harken to Bryant: "Back in January when we were voted No. 1 our players started preparing to win it again this year. In September we were voted No. 1 in the pre-season poll and we thought that meant they expected us to win. Well, we've been winning."

"If the voters want something besides winning," the Alabama coach continued, "We'll try triple reverses, forward laterals, lateral forwards, dippy-doodles or even run a quarterback sneak on third down and nine."

This indicates the Auburn Tigers are in for a rough Saturday afternoon in the top game of a slim national program this weekend. Only two other major games are listed, Oklahoma at Oklahoma State and Utah at Houston.

Army's 20-7 upset victory over Navy at Philadelphia shared the headlines with Notre Dame and Alabama in the final big weekend of the regular season last Saturday.

In other major results Georgia surprised Georgia Tech 23-14, Southern Methodist blanked Texas Christian 21-0; Miami, Fla., upset Florida 21-16, Baylor beat Rice 21-14, Clemson whipped South Carolina 35-10, Mississippi downed Mississippi State 24-0.

No. 1 Title Real Jinx in Basketball

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the UCLA Bruins overcome the jinx of being selected to win the national collegiate basketball championship in the pre-season Associated Press poll?

Not a single pre-season choice has made good in the six years since the pre-season AP poll was started in 1961.

Now the Bruins are the choice to beat out Texas Western for the national crown in the 1967 season that opens Thursday.

The long-awaited varsity debut of Lew Alcindor, fabulous 7-foot-1 sophomore, swung the voting for UCLA in the AP panel of sports writers. Ever since the New York City high school star decided to enter the Los Angeles school, followers of the Bruins have predicted a new era of success for Coach Johnny Wooden's team. Alcindor and UCLA open the season Saturday night against Southern California.

UCLA polled 12 first-place votes to three for Texas Western and beat out the Miners from El Paso with an aggregate 163 points to 143 in the poll announced Sunday. Kentucky, the only other team to receive more than 100 points over-all on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc., finished third with one first place vote and a total of 120 points.

Rounding out the pre-season Top Ten, in order, are Duke, Louisville, New Mexico, Houston, Western Kentucky, North Carolina and Cincinnati. Boston College, Kansas and Chicago Loyola failed to make the Top Ten by a few points.

The pre-season poll compares as follows to the final Associated Press poll for the 1966 season before the championship NCAA tourney: Kentucky, Duke, Texas Western, Kansas, St. Joseph's, Pa., Chicago Loyola, Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Michigan and Western Kentucky.

Peter Kiseret, an end from Arlington, Va., is captain of the Army Cross football team.

Super Bowl Is Planned for the Pros

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Football Leagues open committee meetings today that are expected to result in the date and place for the Super Bowl and the mechanics of the first joint player draft.

A joint committee of the two leagues has been working for weeks on plans for the title game. The Los Angeles Coliseum and the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans reportedly top the list of possible sites. The date is expected to be either Jan. 8, or Jan. 15, both Sundays.

The AFL champion will be decided Monday, Dec. 26, and the NFL title game is set for Sunday, Jan. 1, both in the home park of the Eastern Division winner. Both leagues have tentatively scheduled their all-star games for Jan. 15, but a switch could be made.

The leagues also will try to set up a plan, date and site for a joint draft for 16 NFL teams, including New Orleans, and nine AFL clubs.

Other items on the agenda include a decision on the AFL's two-point conversion rule against the one-point rule of the NFL, and the NFL division of its conferences. The NFL will split its two eight-team conferences in two four-club divisions next year with playoffs between the division winners before the conference winners meet.

The NFL also may announce the owner of the New Orleans franchise. The committee report will be discussed in separate meetings of both leagues and is expected to last two or three days.

CALVIN MURPHY, Niagara University's freshman basketball whiz, doesn't put all his talent in one basket. Calvin, who finished second in world competition in baton twirling, has been a featured performer at half time at home games for the Buffalo Bills. When he isn't twirling or producing points for Niagara, the native of Norwalk, Conn., rates as a standout in all sports and stars in everything he does.

K.C. Chiefs on Top in West, AFL

The Bell tolled, the Bull charged, the Chiefs whooped it up and San Diego sank in the West.

And that, football fans, is how Kansas City became the new Chiefs of the Western Division of the American League.

The story began Sunday when Bobby Bell, Kansas City's premier linebacker, clanged into the New York Jets' backfield in the second quarter and blocked a field goal attempt from the 29 yard line. Bell retrieved the ball and raced to the New York 45.

Mike Mercer then kicked a 47-yard field goal and Kansas City had a 16-10 lead, instead of a 13-13 tie, and the Chiefs went on to a 32-24 victory.

Several chapters and time zones later, another linebacker, John (the Bull) Bramlett of Denver, stamped into the San Diego backfield and blocked a Charger field goal attempt, picked up the ball and stormed 72 yards for a touchdown.

That score put Denver ahead to stay, 13-10, and the Broncos raced on to a 20-17 upset that buried the Chargers and gave Kansas City the decision title.

This conclusion that ended San Diego's three-year hold on the division title provided an extra measure of satisfaction.

With players like Bell, people have been saying for years the Chiefs had the best material in the league.

"I don't worry about what other people say," said Kansas City Coach Hank Stram about his new Chiefs. "We have had a fairly good football team for years but we needed important help. Now we have it in fellows like Otis Taylor and Mike Garrett. These two plus a healthy Len Dawson, Chris Burford and Gil Coan make the difference."

Dawson's passes to Taylor set up two other Mercer field goals, his tosses to Garrett and Taylor led to a 19-yard scoring heave to Burford and Garrett's running and catching set up the former Heisman Trophy winner's plunge for a TD.

Pete Beathard, taking over when Dawson ruptured a blood vessel in his left hand, directed the Chiefs on long drives that produced a TD and Mercer's fourth field goal, enough to overcome two last quarter scoring passes by Joe Namath that tightened the score.

The victory gave Kansas City an uncatchable 9-2-1 record while San Diego fell to 5-5-1. Bramlett's charge came with 7:24 to play and Wendell Hayes later broke for 56 yards and a score.

In the only other AFL game, Boston kept pace with Buffalo in the Eastern Division by holding off Miami 20-14 as Jim Nance broke the league rushing record for a season.

Babe Parilli hit Art Graham on a 22-yard scoring pass and Gino Cappelletti kicked two field goals, but it was Nance's 27-yard TD run that provided the difference. It gave the Pats a 20-0 lead in the third period before Dick Wood carried the Dolphins back with two scoring tosses.

Nance gained 133 yards for the day, bringing his total to 1,125, four more than Paul Lowe last year.

Buffalo beat Oakland Thursday for a 3-1 record and Boston stands at 6-3-2, setting up their showdown clash next Sunday. But that's another story.

Cupit Wins Sudden Death Golf Victory

By BEN THOMAS
LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Jacky Cupit is an unemotional man on and off the golf course.

Take Sunday, for instance. When the 28-year-old Texan sank a one-foot putt for a par and a sudden death victory over Chi Chi Rodriguez in the $34,500 Cajun Classic, he tipped his hat ever so slightly and strode away with just a flicker of a smile across his face.

A few minutes later, after picking up the first-prize money of $4,850, he took a break from an interview in the press room to call his wife Delys back in Longview, Tex.

Jacky's end of the conversation went like this:

"Delys, I won. Yeah, Yeah. I knew you'd be glad."

"I shot a 72, but I won it in a playoff with Chi Chi. I beat him on the second hole."

"I'm glad you weren't here. You'd have ulcers and everything by now."

Cupit, youngest of five golfing brothers, started out Sunday with a three-stroke lead. Rodriguez, the capricious Puerto Rican swinger, was his closest rival in the tourney—final official stop for 1966 on the PGA circuit.

Both finished the 27 holes in 271-17 under par at the 6,555-yard Oakbourne County Club course, which plays to a regulation figure of 36-36-72.

Girl Plays It Safe and Is Winner

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth plays it safe at the Titleholders Golf Tournament, and her caution has paid off with back-to-back championships.

The Jal, N.M., golfer successfully defended her title Sunday with a 73 on the final round for a 72-hole total of 291, two strokes in front of her nearest challengers.

"You can't afford to get off the fairways on this course," Miss Whitworth said. "So I try to steer the ball even if it costs me distance."

Miss Whitworth started a stroke back of Mary Mills of Ocean City, Miss., in the final round.

Miss Mills shot a final round 76 and dropped into a tie for second at 293 with Judy Kimball of Dallas, Tex., and shot a final round 75.

Michigan State's 1966 football team includes six seniors who have won two varsity letters each.

Denies Any Merger for Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—James H. Stewart, president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, said Saturday that as far as he knew the Southwest Conference "has been very pleased with the game as it is."

Stewart made the comment after Jack Keady, sports editor of the Arkansas Democrat, said in his Sunday column there was a possibility that the Cotton and Bluebonnet bowls might merge.

"I have heard no talk of this type from anybody," Stewart said. "As far as the board and officers of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association are concerned this is a very surprising statement coming from anyone connected with the Southwest Conference."

Bob Cullum, president of the State Fair of Texas which operates Cotton Bowl Stadium, said he believed the board would have heard about such things but that he had heard nothing.

Keady said in his column that the Cotton Bowl did not like competing against professional football in Dallas and that "the Cotton Bowl seems certain to be in for some changes in the very near future."

Reds, French Pointing for Olympics

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Soviet and French athletes may be getting an edge on U.S. competitors in the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by constantly training at high altitudes, says an American physician.

Dr. Roy F. Goddard of Albuquerque, N.M., gave this opinion in an interview at the American Medical Association annual clinical convention Sunday.

"The thin air at Mexico City at 7,300-foot altitudes means performance times will be longer — there probably will be no records set in maximum endurance events such as swimming and running, Goddard said.

"The Olympic Committee has set the limit of four weeks of training in Mexico City prior to the games — but there is no prohibition against training at high altitudes elsewhere between now and then.

"We know that camps have been established in mountainous areas of Russia and France for potential Olympic contestants, and I personally think American athletes would benefit too from a similar program in this country."

Goddard, director of pediatric research at the Lovelace Foundation, Albuquerque, recently made a study showing swimmers in the October 1965 International Sports Week at Mexico City failed to approach their previous records at sea level.

"The body needs time — at least three weeks, and six weeks probably would be better — to adjust to high altitudes, to increase the intake of oxygen and in an atmosphere where less oxygen is available," he said.

"This adjustment period can be reduced with periodic training at high altitude. Athletes who do this will acclimatize more quickly in Mexico City and probably do better in competition."

Tigers Edge McRae 25-19 in Final Tilt

BY JAMES HAMILTON

The Yerger Tigers played their last game of the season Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, against the McRae Tigers of Prescott and were victorious by a score of 25-19. The victory over the McRae Tigers gave the Yerger Tigers a season record of 3-7-1. The Yerger Tigers took the lead early in the first quarter from opening kick-off. After a substantial drive of 69 yds, by the Tigers, James Monk, then took the ball in from 2 yds. out for the touchdown. The PAT was no good, but the Tigers led 6-0. McRae came back to tie the score with an amazing run of 90 yds. by Vander Stagger. The PAT was no good and the score was now tied at 6-6.

The Tigers, unwilling to give up, substituted another drive of 59 yds, which resulted as a touchdown in an outstanding play by Ernest Standokes. Ernest, to Ray Garland from 12 yds. out for the touchdown. The PAT was good putting the Tigers ahead 13-6.

In the second quarter, the Tigers decided to increase their lead. Frank Prater, quarterback, completed a tremendous jump pass to Spencer Brown. Brown, then outran McRae's defense for 30 yds. and a touchdown. The PAT was no good, but the Tiger's increased their lead to 19-6, an interception by Kenneth Muldrew stopping a threat by McRae. Standokes took the ball in from 2 yds. out. The PAT was no good and the Tigers now led 25-6.

After the half, the McRae Tigers came on strong scoring 2 touchdowns. Both made by Vander Stagers. One was scored from 3 yds. out and the other was from 8 yds. out. With only one PAT, being good, the Tiger's margin was decreased to 25-19.

In the fourth quarter with only the McRae Tigers attempted to tie the score and would have succeeded if it had not been for the great speed of Spencer Brown, who came out of nowhere to bring down Randy Daniels ending the McRae Tigers' threat. The final score was 25-19 in Yerger's favor.

The leading rusher for the Yerger Tigers was Ernest Standokes with 8 carries for 94 yds. and next was Robert Prater with 9 carries for 56 yds.

The Tigers' defense also displayed an excellent game. The defense was led by William Muldrew with 14 tackles, Earl Muldrew with 13 tackles, and Kenneth Muldrew, who got 9 tackles intercepted a pass, and recovered a fumble.

THE ALCINDOR ERA BEGINS

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When a high school basketball player becomes as accessible to the public than the President of the United States, then it is logical to assume the athlete is extraordinary.

On Saturday, Dec. 3, Lew Alcindor will take the biggest publicity buildup in the history of college basketball with him onto the court of the Paul Pavillion on the UCLA campus.

Next March—the experts agree—he will walk off the court with coach John Wooden in Freedom Hall, Louisville, Ky., carrying the first of three successive national championship trophies.

Lew Alcindor is 7-1, 230 pounds. At 11, he was a six-

HIGH-SCORING Elvin Hayes, who stands 6-9, is the main reason why Houston will make defense the major issue for all opponents.

footed. At 12, he was learning the game on the playgrounds with Wilt Chamberlain as his teacher.

Someday—possibly very soon—he will be a better basketball player than Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell or George Mikan.

This most valuable piece of athletic property is from Power Memorial High School in New York City.

He is—insiders say—very smart, very studious and very articulate.

It is nice to know he is articulate. It was impossible to find out for the last few years.

His high school coach would not allow him to talk with reporters, scouts or any other "strangers." "I'm doing it to protect him," said Jack Donahue who is the head coach at Holy Cross now.

Donahue's name brings to memory an evening in Madison Square Garden two years ago after Power had played the preliminary to a professional game. Donahue was sitting with a few reporters. Directly across the aisle Lew sat with his teammates.

One of the reporters got up, went over to Lew, shook his hand and inquired about his general health and his thoughts on choosing a college.

"Sorry," Lew said. "I'm not allowed to talk."

End interview.

The same policy was in effect last year at UCLA when Lew was a freshman.

Now the world awaits Lew Alcindor. Unless he fails public speaking, the University of Southern California will have the first chance to defense him.

"I'll tell you one thing," Chamberlain was quoted. "Nobody in college is going to push him around. My contention is that nobody in college is going to stop Lew Alcindor."

Wilt admits that Alcindor is the better all-around shooter. Wilt also feels that because Lew can shoot well with either hand he is going to be a bigger problem for opposition defenses.

The only weakness Wilt finds is Lew's lack of stamina. UCLA's assistant coach Jerry Norman confirms this. "This is the thing we've got to help him with," Jerry said.

Stamina means everything at UCLA due to the pressing zone tactics favored by Wooden; nobody at UCLA is exempt from playing defense.

Alcindor's debut this year, will, unfortunately, take the spotlight away from a number of other deserving players around the country.

Jim Walker of Providence, for example, is the most exciting backcourtman in the country.

Kentucky's Pat Riley, for his size (6-3) probably is the best all-around player.

Elvin Hayes of Houston and Westley Unseld of Louisville would be candidates for All-American center any other year.

North Carolina's Bob Lewis, St. Joseph's Cliff Anderson, Duke's Bob Verga and Western Kentucky's Clem Haskins are other collegians whose publicity will suffer.

For the next three years Lew Alcindor will be the dominant name in college basketball.

Russell Is Standout in Knick Game

Cazzie Russell, the $200,000 rookie, played like a million dollars in the National Basketball Association Saturday night.

The Michigan All-America and last year's college basketball player of the year cut loose for 22 points in last quarter to bring the New York Knicks from behind for a 125-114 victory over the Baltimore Bullets.

Altogether Russell scored 34 points and one of his baskets broke a 94-94 tie to put the Knicks ahead for good.

In other Saturday night games Philadelphia beat Detroit 131-123, Boston downed Cincinnati 118-87, Los Angeles took St. Louis 133-126 and San Francisco edged Chicago 131-129 on Jim King's 35-foot jump shot in the last season.

No games were played Sunday and none is scheduled tonight.

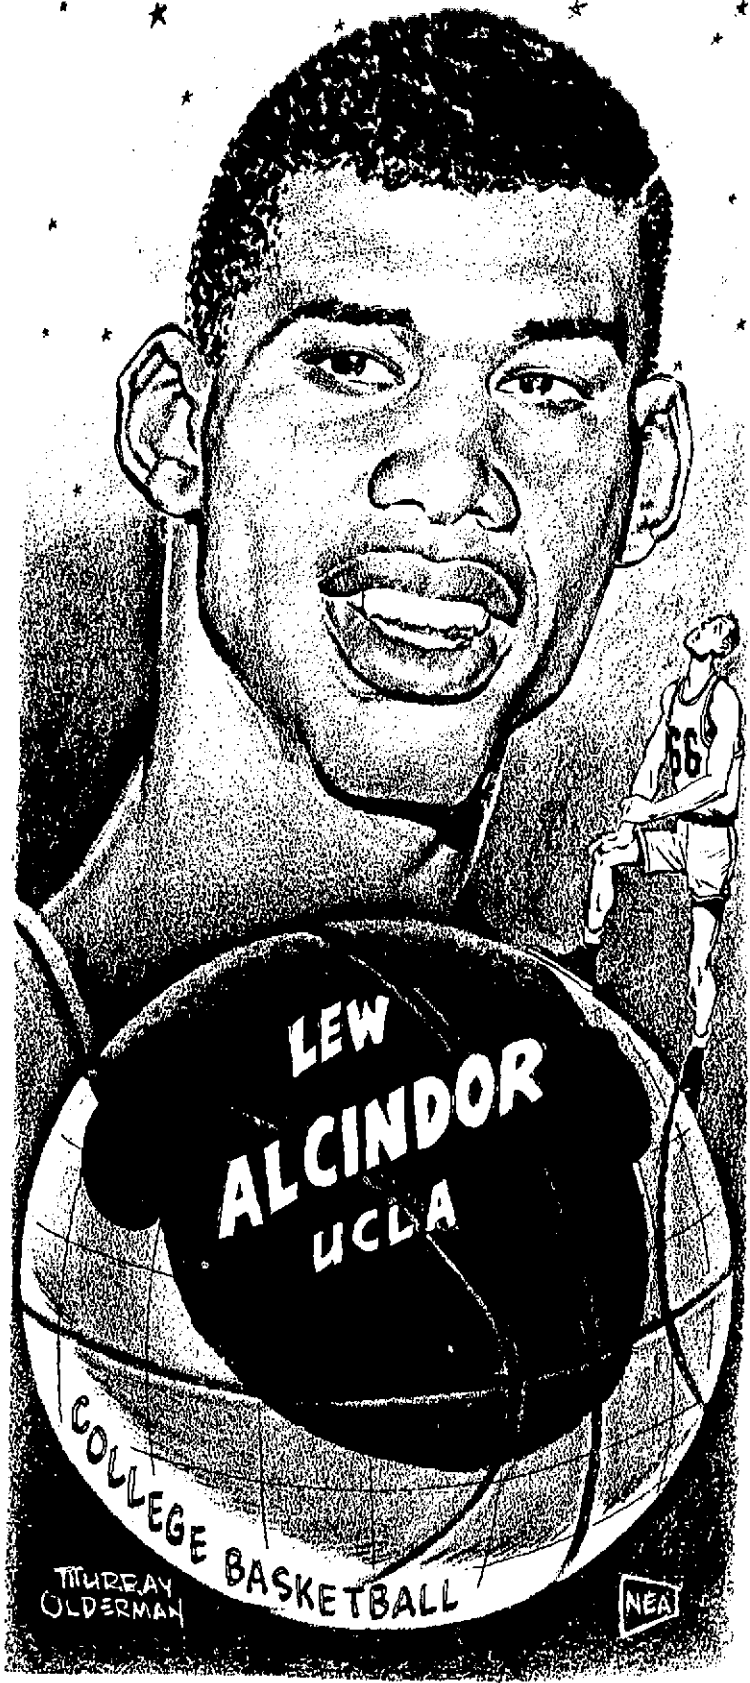

BASKETBALL BUFFS last year compared Jim Walker of Providence to Oscar Robinson in his collegiate days. Walker is the he-can-do-it-all type.

The hunting season offers some fellows their only chance to be a big shot.

CASTING A GIANT'S SHADOW

Wheeling it

By BOB COCHNAR
and DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—At first glance, it seems the only thing Miss Teenage America for 1967 could do for automobile safety is keep teenage boys off the streets.

That 17-year-old Sandra Roberts could do well, Ford's Lincoln-Mercury Division is sending Sandy around the country to promote safety (and, of course, L-M products) during the next 12 months. She'll speak mostly to youth groups.

Any red-blooded young American male who doesn't go see her (and listen, if he can) probably dates a chick who should have been in the Miss Teenage America contest with Sandy.

However, Sandy can't drive. "I won a new Cougar with the title," she said, smiling sweetly. "So I'm going to learn real quick."

But Sandy does know something about auto safety. She was in a nasty accident once and suffered severe head cuts when she was thrown through the windshield.

"No seat belt," she said.

Also, L-M put her through a five-day auto safety course in Dearborn, Mich., recently. She came away "horribly shocked" and was quoted that it made her afraid to get into a car. It didn't exactly please L-M people.

"They had these very realistic dummies, with sensitive gadgets in critical areas of the body," she recalled. "Then they ran the cars into walls and measured the probable injury a person can get bouncing off the dashboard or the steering wheel. It's unbelievable what can happen."

"You know, traffic fatalities would be reduced by 5,000 annually, and serious injuries would be cut by a third if everybody buckled his seat belt each time he got in a car. Isn't that something?"

To most people, especially teenagers, it is another boring statistic. But Sandy, if she turns her hazel eyes on you, makes it an impressive one.

Lincoln-Mercury has given her a film to show and armed her with statistics. The only statistic her prepared speech doesn't cover is the number of accidents men have when they turn their heads from driving to watch a girl like Sandy wiggle down the street.

SANDRA ROBERTS, Miss Teenage America, is Lincoln-Mercury Division's youth safety spokesman. She doesn't drive.

"Now, now," she coos.

Apart from her safety-promotion travel, Sandy is in for a rough time in her reign. For one thing, publicity types keep putting words in her mouth and she comes off a super All-American girl. "She's a thorough extro-

QUICK QUIZ

TIZZY

by Kate Osann

Q—What city is popularly known as the "Tri-Mountain City"?
A—Boston, Mass., from the three hills on which it was originally built.

Q—Is the honeybee native to America, and where does it carry the pollen it takes from flowers?

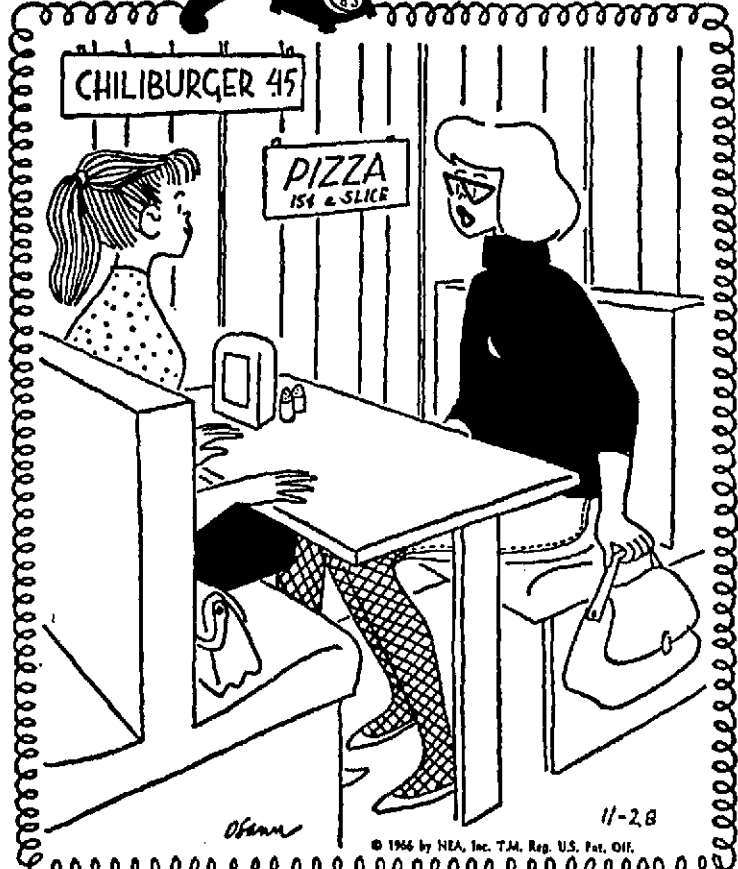

A—17th-century colonists brought domestic bees to America from Europe because they needed honey for sweetening. The bee carries the pollen in a pollen basket located under its hind leg.

Q—What city was the first capital of the United States under the Articles of Confederation?

A—York, Pa.

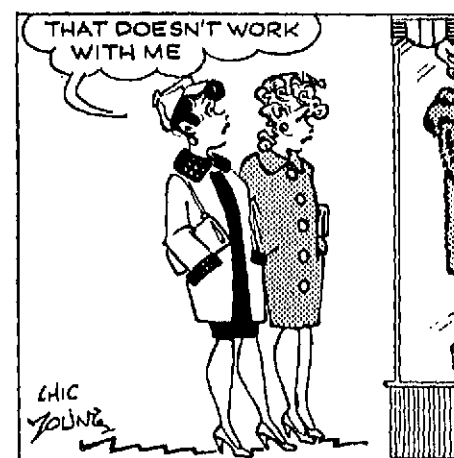

Q—How did the expression "He's on the level" come to mean that he is completely reliable?

A—The level referred to is the carpenter's or mason's level. When a wall or floor is "true," the movable bubble in the glass tube rests precisely in the middle, indicating that it is "on the level."

Some false-card plays shouldn't work but when you know that you have no other chance you might as well false-card and hope for the best.

North's three-heart response is the best bid at his disposal. A two no-trump response is inadequate while either a two-trump raise or a bid of the horrible diamond suit gives more misinformation than the three heart call. There is nothing wrong with the six spade contract except that when South sees that three of diamonds lead he is sure that it is a singleton and that a diamond ruff is going to defeat him.

Sure enough, East wins with the ace of diamonds. If South meekly plays the seven East is bound to reason that West has not opened that three spot from either king-three or queen-three and East will return a diamond. If South drops the king East may decide that it is a singleton and East may try to cash his ace of clubs.

East really should not do this. If East reviews the bidding he will note that South has jumped from four to six spades. That sort of bidding indicates a void somewhere. With potential losers in both clubs and diamonds South would probably have tried a four no-trump bid. Hence, East should not be fooled by that king play but you get nowhere if you don't try and South should try.

Sculpting Rainbows

It's art, not a balancing act, that has Yani Novak, 22-year-old dancer and model from San Francisco, up in the air at right. Her perch is the latest work of a friend, sculptor Charles Ross, who works in a unique material—Plexiglass. When filled with distilled water, his three-dimensional geometric shapes act as prisms, scattering light and producing a rainbow effect. Capacity of this 15½-foot tower, erected at Napa, Calif., is 28 gallons—including four gallons of anti-freeze as protection against the winter cold.

Left, Yani polishes a Plexiglass panel for a tower segment. Below, Yani and Ross swish rubbing alcohol around the inside of an assembled prism to remove dust and smudges before filling it with distilled water.

Mao Being Undercut by Fellow Reds

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — In less than 35 years mainland China has moved from a dilapidated, medieval condition, complete with war lords, to one of the great powers of the earth, but with a difference.

It is unified but only to the extent that it is controlled by one organization, the Communist party, and one group of chieftains, the party leaders under the thumb of the father of it all, Mao Tse-tung.

But it is so ripped by internal dissension that it looks like a nation on the fringe of lunacy, acting out a fantasy.

Despite all the interpretations of Red China's troubles, much if not most are basically guesswork which tries to patch fragments of information together about a nation where few outsiders are privy to Red China's insiders.

But even the rest of the Communist world seems stupefied by the antics of the Red Chinese leadership and over the weekend the Soviet Union called on the Chinese to put a curb on Mao.

Under him China has had one disaster after another in foreign relations, climaxed by their break with the Soviet Union, one-time partner and biggest neighbor.

What seems to have happened is this: Mao failed to rivet control; or at 72 he got careless about it; or some of his top lieutenants, anxious about the future of the country or hungry for power of their own, began to plot or disagree among themselves on the succession to Mao when he dies or fades; or Mao, inflexible to change, sticks to a vision of China which seems outdated to his underlings.

Whatever the cause of what's happening now, the result is chaos: He has mustered to his support millions of Chinese youths who, under the badge of the "Red Guard," have tried by violence and numbers to terrorize the nation into a docile obedience to Mao.

Since the army has not interfered yet, it can be assumed that, whatever his reason for what has happened, Mao still has the backing of the military. But that can change fast. Meanwhile, so the youths could perform, schools have been closed, factories idled, railroads tied in knots.

When a dictator has to depend on youngsters by the millions to chant his slogans as a symbol of unity, the picture is one of revolution by irresponsibility, even of childishness. This isn't the way he won his power. He didn't conquer China with children.

The new pens range in price from 50 yen (14 cents) to 2,000 yen ($5.50).

China Issue Up for UN Decision

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today neared its annual decision on the admission of Red China to the world organization. Diplomats predicted a close vote on an Italian resolution referring the issue to a special committee for a year's study.

The assembly was expected to vote late tonight on the Italian resolution and two others. One, the annual Communist proposal to oust Nationalist China and seat the Communists, was believed certain of defeat. The other, the annual U.S. resolution calling for a two-thirds vote to change China's representation, appeared likely to be approved.

Some sponsors of the Italian resolution predicted the 121-nation assembly would adopt it by a vote of about 45-40, with some opponents guessed it would be defeated by a margin of one or two votes.

The Italian resolution hints that both Chinas should be in the United Nations. It speaks of the need to promote universality in the organization and "pave the way to an appropriate solution, taking into account the existing situation and the political realities of the area."

It would have the assembly name a committee of U.N. member countries to study the situation and recommend an "equitable and practical solution" to the assembly's 1967 session which begins next September. Without mentioning the rival Chinese regimes, it "appeals to all governments concerned to give assistance to the committee."

Both Chinese governments rejected the Italian proposal and the two-China solution that it appeared to be a prelude to.

ity to hold office as a committee-man is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed, or national origin. The Chairman stressed the desirability of electing members who are actively engaged in the operation of a farm (or ranch) and who are representative of the type and kind of farming in the county. Other details as to qualifications of candidates are available in the ASCS County Office.

Any questions on eligibility to hold office as an ASC county committeeman will be decided by the incumbent county committee subject to appeal to the State committee decision.

Programs administered by ASC committees are directed toward encouraging conservation and increasing farm returns by means of price supports and market supply-management, as by payments.

Murders End Couple's Anniversary

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Coroner M.W. Bennett has ruled murder-suicide in the deaths of a couple who rented a motel bridal suite to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Caldwell Adams, 46, Harnett County farmer, and his wife, Rannell, 46, were found shot to death Saturday, Bennett said.

Mrs. Adams shot her sleeping husband with a .25 caliber pistol and then fired two shots into her

THE WELL CHILD

Baby's Breath-Holding May Not Be a Gimmick

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A worried mother asks what she can do for her baby when he holds his breath. Breath-holding has long been considered a trick spoiled babies use as emotional blackmail against their mothers. Baby holds his breath; mother panics and gives baby what he wants; baby is happy until the next crisis: crises may occur 12 or 14 times a day.

A British doctor has now reported that it isn't all that simple. In many cases, he says, breath-holding is a sign of early rickets. The matter is easily put to a test. Give the baby one calciferol tablet containing 50,000 units of vitamin D-2 and observe him closely for the next two weeks. If the breath-holding attacks decrease in number and severity in that time, the child has early rickets.

A course of vitamin D-2 and calcium gluconate given for six weeks should completely eliminate any further attacks unless the habit of breath-holding has already become firmly established. For babies whose attacks are habitual or who do not have a vitamin D deficiency, one mother found that she could nip an attack in the bud by throwing water in the child's face. She kept a cup of water in every room in the house and used it at the first sign (within less than 15 seconds) of an attack. The habit was quickly broken. But regardless of the treatment used, no harm to a baby ever resulted from breath-holding.

Rebel on Bad Roads to the Schoolhouse

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Twelve parents from a remote section of Rio Arriba County in northern New Mexico have been convicted of keeping their children out of school to protest what they claimed was the dangerous condition of roads over which their children had to travel.

In a nonjury trial, Dist. Judge Samuel Z. Montoya said Saturday he sympathized with the parents' desire for a better road but "if you want your children to get the opportunities they deserve, you should do everything humanly possible to see that they get an education."

Sentencing was set for Wednesday on the misdemeanor charge which carries a fine of $5 to $100 or imprisonment for 90 days.

"I like the way modern concrete roads keep their riding smoothness!"

If you've driven any of the new concrete highways you already know how smooth-riding they are. No bumps... no ripples... no sway—it's almost like riding above the pavement.

Concrete is laid flat, to stay flat for your continued driving pleasure. It saves tax dollars because far less upkeep is needed. Concrete is tough—tremendously strong. It stands up to all kinds of weather and has the stamina to support the heavy-est traffic loads. It actually increases in strength as it ages—as much as 20% in the first 5 years.

The National Road Test, most scientific pavement study ever made, confirmed again the unequalled performance of concrete.

Add the safety of high night visibility, dependable skid resistance. Good reasons concrete is the preferred pavement for Interstate and other roads and highways.

The Hope man, supervising bookside heavy equipment unloading ship supplies for the Southeast Asia war, for the Philco Division of Ford Motor Co., writes:

"Wore out and tired. Will write you later. Working seven days 12 hours a day. Rains every day, and hot. Tell Mr. Carter J. (L. Carter Johnson) hello for me."

With his usual whimsy Bill addressed his card: "Alex. H. Washburn, Assistant Editor, in care of, Editor Paul H. Jones and Reporter Pod Rogers — Reply Requested."

That's life for you — one day a friend is arguing with you in a Hope cafe, and the next day you get a postcard from Viet Nam...

What's news to Hope about a new building in New York City? Well, this one is, for it's the new edition of the world-famous Metropolitan Opera House, featured in the October issue of the Construction Craftsman magazine. It was opened this fall with "Anthony and Cleopatra" — climaxed 50 years of planning and the expenditure of 45 million dollars.

That's a lot of money for a 3,800-seat theater — but the Metropolitan is more than a theater. Not only is it the top opera center of the world but it also is the crown jewel of New York's new Lincoln Center — the world's largest cultural complex.

However, I can't tell a lie. As a student I lived in New York for a year and a half — and never once spent a night at the opera. World premiers came and went and ours truly was deliberately absent. I was musically disinclined, and that was long before I took up photography — a voracious art which requires you to be constantly going places just to make pictures. The theater certainly burlesque on occasion — and even the opera.

I wasn't there, but a different man is our Billy Dan Jones, mechanical superintendent. Bill and his wife and their two sons saw the new Metropolitan last June while East attending the Fairchild (press) Technical Training Center on Long Island. However, Mr. Jones doesn't know any more about opera than yours truly. He didn't go inside any more than I did. The report I got from him was mainly an architectural appraisal of the difference between the beautiful new building and the virtual wreck of the historic old Metropolitan.

Some of the statistics on the new building are indeed fantastic. It is eight stories tall, with six more stories underground. The auditorium above ground has a clear span of roof from the stage to the back of the house of 158 feet — a distance never before achieved in the United States. It is actually two buildings in one. The smaller section is the great horseshoe auditorium; the larger section is behind and below the stage, accommodating vast scenery sets and myriad shop and workrooms.

I never went while I lived there, and haven't been in New York since 1951 — but old curiosity has me on the hip — I'll see the opera on my next visit... with camera... but still no tape-recorder!

Traffic Toll for State 5 for Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two teen-agers were killed Saturday night to lift Arkansas' traffic death toll for the five-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend to five, an Associated Press count showed today.

John Larry Thomas, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thomas of Stuttgart, was killed Saturday night when the car he was driving left Arkansas 11 about six miles south of Hazen, struck in an embankment and overturned.

James Cateley, 18, of Little Rock was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision in Little Rock.

Star First Newspaper in Arkansas to Buy World's Newest Color Machine Pictures in 4 Colors Due in January

Hope Star expects to celebrate its first anniversary in offset printing by producing the first four-color pictures in southwest Arkansas newspaper history in January.

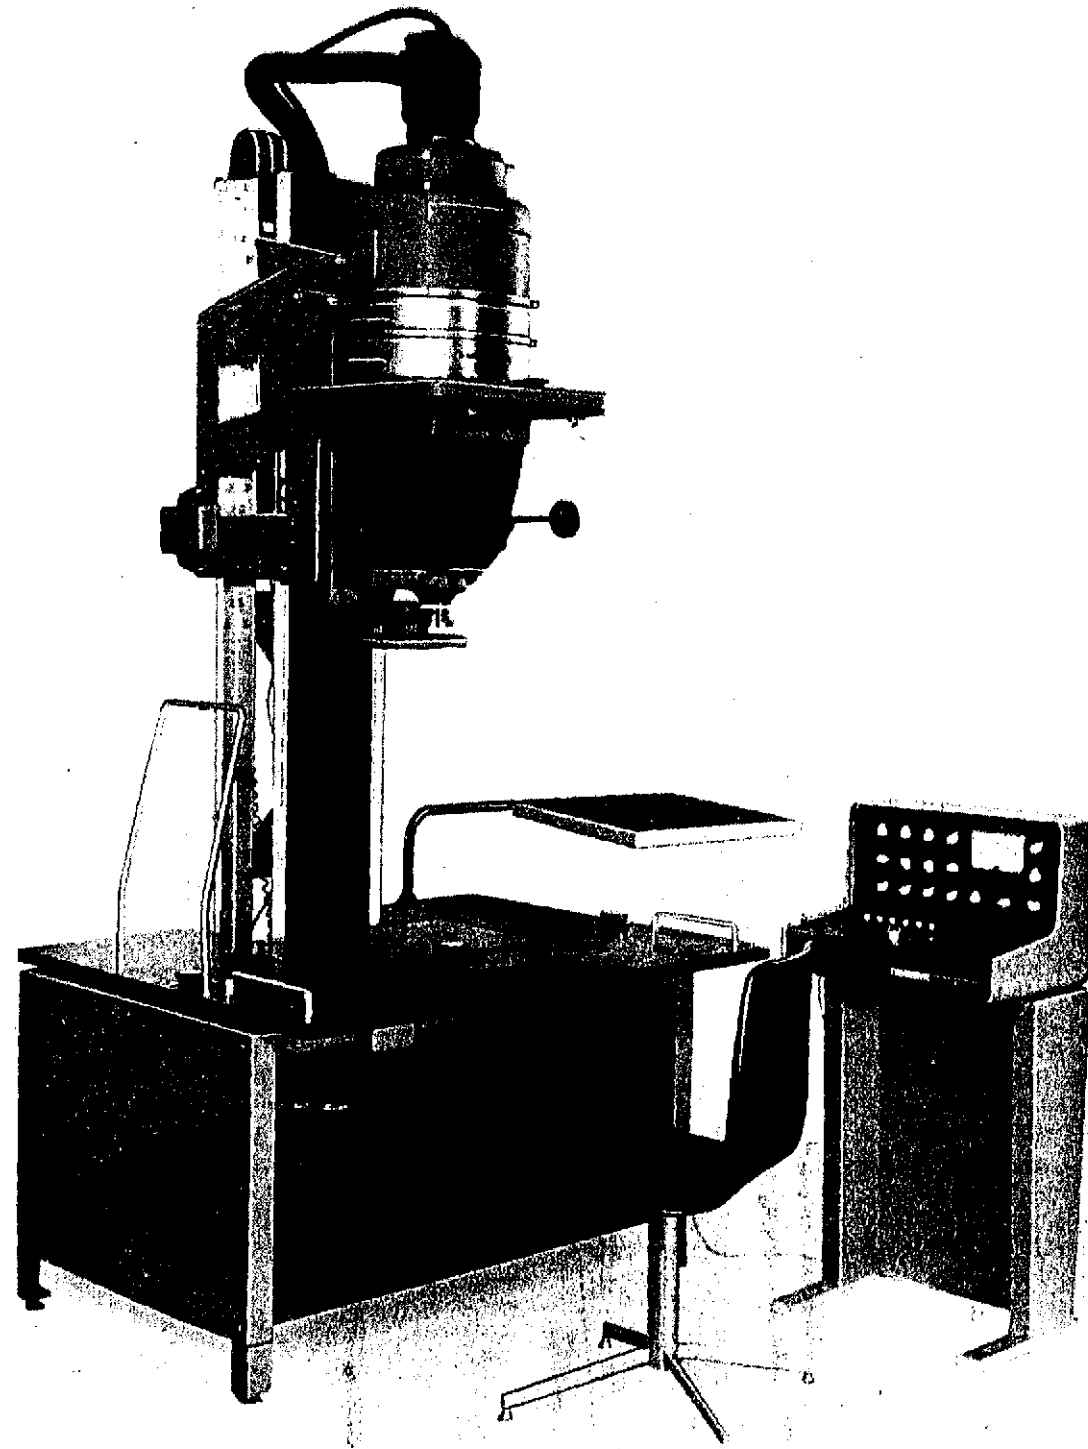

The newspaper has ordered for delivery the last of December a Berkey Direct Screen System machine, pictured above — a machine which was announced only this month and which will be the first for any newspaper plant in the state.

Four-color printing is the most exacting of all the processes known to the graphic arts. It requires four negatives, one each for black and the primary colors: Red, blue, and yellow. Not only must each negative be in "register" so the assembly prints as a single picture, but the exposure for each color must be correct so the "color mix" faithfully represents the original transparency.

This is a large order. Under the old system of trial and error skilled craftsman took days and even weeks to make a good set of "separation negatives," as they are called in the trade.

But Berkey Technical Corp., New York, this month announced the new automated machine shown above, and The Star bought it. The newspaper already had on hand, but still in its shipping crates, some of the machine's components — but then Berkey developed the one indispensable part that couldn't be bought separately: The electronic control unit — on the stand to the right of the machine. This converts guess-work to automation.

Visiting experts from Berkey's New York office and Eastman Kodak men from Dallas will make trial sets of negatives until they come up with a perfect result. They will measure a transparency for its degree of lightness or darkness, and then set up the correct exposures for the "color mix" in the electronic control unit. Once this is done, succeeding transparencies will be measured only for light value and as the light index changes from picture to picture the electronic control unit automatically changes the exposures for the four negatives to assure a perfect "color mix." In demonstrations at New York and Chicago this month a craftsman who had never before seen the Berkey machine turned out a perfect set of color negatives in one hour flat — startling the graphic arts world!

So The Star turned over to the factory for full credit the components it had bought and paid for, and signed for the entire new machine. At first the newspaper ordered the smaller of the two models, handling from 35mm. to 4x5 transparencies. Newspapers alone use nothing larger than 4x5. But advertising agencies in the big cities use 5x7 and 8x10 transparencies on occasion. Sensing some new business the newspaper changed its order to the largest machine, pictured above, which handles everything from 35mm. to 8x10 transparencies.

It will be here by The Star's anniversary on the switch to offset printing — Dec. 29, 1965 — and full-color printing such as you see in the national magazines will follow in January. Up to now The Star has published "duotones," red or blue with black — but the big and spectacular adventure is just around the corner.

Hungarian Red Meeting Is Deserted

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The ninth congress of the Hungarian Communist party opened today with only about 30 foreign delegations attending, a relatively small audience for Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev if he renews the call for a world Communist conference.

It was assumed Brezhnev would speak Tuesday. He and Bulgarian party chief Todor Zhivkov are the highest ranking foreign Communists attending. Zhivkov first sounded the call for a world conference at the Bulgarian congress two weeks ago, and Brezhnev quickly endorsed it.

Asked at a news conference why only 30 foreign delegations have come, a spokesman said all European Communist parties and those from Communist countries elsewhere were invited. All of them except China and Albania accepted, he said.

On the eve of the congress opening Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, openly called on opposition elements inside the Chinese party to rise against Mao Tse-tung.

Pravda said Mao adopted an "erroneous course," deliberately hostile to the Soviet Union, that split the world Communist movement and hampered aid to North Viet Nam. It charged that Mao ruthlessly replaced Communist ideology with his own thought, raising a threat to the world Communist movement that must be overcome.

Committee Election Explained

Several important changes in election details initiated last year at the county convention held to elect ASC county committeemen, are designed to give more continuity and stability to operating policies in ASCA County Offices and to improve administration of farm programs by local committees, according to R. B. Arnall, chairman of the County Committee. The convention will be held at 9:30 A. M., November 28, 1966 in the Conference Room of the Federal-Post Office Building in Hope.

The Chairman explained that the changes are part of a continuing process to make more effective use of farmer-committees in to increase their importance and status, and to attract outstanding farm leaders to serve in these positions.

One change in the convention elections is that all regular members of the various community committees within the county (instead of the chairman only) elect the county committeemen. Other changes are that the county committeemen are elected for 3-year staggered terms (instead of for 1 year), and the service of terms (previously there has been no limitation.)

In the 1965 county convention, one county committee member was elected for a 1-year term, one member for a 2-year term, and the third member for a 3-year term. Therefore, in 1966 and succeeding years, the annual county convention normally will elect only one member of each county committee, for a term of 3 years. (This of course could vary according to the number of actual vacancies on the committee.) Each year, the convention also elects a first and a second alternate committeeman, each for a 1-year term.

After the committee members are elected, the delegates vote again to determine which of the regular members are to serve as the chairman and the vice-chairman. The conventions re-determine these positions annually on the ASC County committee is one who is a resident eligible to vote in one of the community elections in the county, and who meets other eligibility requirement. Bombers Hit Viet Cong Main Hdqs.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers pounded the suspected central headquarters of the Viet Cong northwest of Saigon today and North Vietnamese army regulars staged a mortar attack on U.S. 4th Division troops in the central highlands. Few shots were fired on the ground elsewhere in the war.

There was no report on the effectiveness of the B52 strike. A U.S. spokesman said the North Vietnamese mortar attack, 18 miles from the Plei Djereng Green Beret camp, caused no U.S. casualties. He said all 25 enemy rounds fell outside the American perimeter.

Earlier in the day Premier Nguyen Cao Ky visited the Plei Djereng Special Forces camp to decorate Maj. Gen. Arthur S. Collins, the 4th Division commander; Brig. Gen. David O. Byars, assistant commander; and 30 other U.S. officers.

The U.S. military command reported only three small skirmishes in various sectors and said 18 Viet Cong were killed.

The U.S. Navy had a busy day Sunday, reporting that 7th Fleet destroyers and rocket ships fired more than 1,300 five-inch shells and rockets at targets in South Viet Nam. The targets included supply routes, storage areas and fortified positions, the Navy said.

There was still no word from the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands whether they would order a truce at Christmas and New Year's. The Viet Cong announced Saturday it would stop fighting for 48 hours on the Christmas weekend and for 48 hours over the New Year.

Continued monsoon rains and generally bad weather over North Viet Nam sharply reduced U.S. air raids again Sunday, limiting pilots to 32 missions.

The giant B52s flew in from Guam and bombed the suspected site of the Viet Cong's Central Office of South Viet Nam in jungles of Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border. The province, northwest of Saigon, was the scene of the massive U.S. Operation Attleboro, a 43-day sweep which ended Saturday.

In the scattered ground actions today, a unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in a 15-minute firefight 19 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, on the coast.

Across the country near the Cambodian frontier, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division also reported six enemy killed in a 10-minute scrap 19 miles northwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Djereng. This area has been the scene of sporadic fighting for two weeks and was hit by a B52 raid Sunday night

728 Die in U.S. Traffic Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A record holiday traffic death toll was set when 728 persons were killed in highway accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Victims under 18 years of age numbered 125.

This compared with a non-holiday weekend two weeks ago when 546 died in traffic. Eighty-one were under 18.

Both 102-hour periods covered the span from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, to midnight Sunday.

The record toll outstripped the former Thanksgiving holiday death record of 615 set during the four-day period last year, and the all-time traffic death record for a holiday, set during the 1965 Christmas period when 720 died in a 78-hour count.

Many accidents resulted in multiple fatalities, with two to five persons killed in a single crash. Five persons including two married couples died in one head-on collision near Dryden, N.Y., Saturday. Several four-death smashups were reported.

Sunday was by far the deadliest day with nearly 250 deaths. Apparently, the unusually mild, pleasant weather over most of the nation during the holiday lured unprecedented numbers of persons onto the highways. Millions crowded the roads going home on the last day of the weekend, many running into unfavorable weather conditions posed by widespread rain in the central section of the country, and some snow and freezing in the northern states.

Romney Over Nixon, New Poll Shows

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Gallup poll says Michigan's Gov. George Romney has passed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the top choice for Republican presidential candidate in 1968.

The poll, taken the week after Nov. 8 elections and released Sunday, shows Romney the favorite of 39 per cent of Republicans and 34 per cent of independents.

Nixon, choice of 34 per cent of Republicans in the poll last year, was selected this month by 31 per cent of the Republicans and 22 per cent of the independents.

Hempstead County Coroner J. T. Honeycutt told the Star this morning that an investigation continuing in the case of James Steed, 16-year old Prescott youth who died Thanksgiving night... a complete report from the state pathologist will be mailed to Hope later this week... and the name Ricky Butler, one of the other boys in the accident, should have been Ricky Burke. Ricky Butler, former Hope High school football star, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Butler of Hope, is serving with the U. S. Air Force in Japan.

Hope Fire Department made two runs Saturday: the first at 12:01 PM to a car on fire on East Third street and the second at 12:53 PM to another car on fire on West Third street. Both were tourist cars, both caught on fire from the carburetor and neither were badly damaged.

Tax Hike Is Predicted by Party Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, the third-ranking Democratic leader in the House predicts President Johnson will ask the new Congress for a $10-billion to $15-billion increase in the income tax.

But the Louisiana says Johnson "hasn't told me so."

Boggs, back from talks with Johnson in Texas last week, said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" that projected expenditures of $125 billion will bring "a deficit of a considerable magnitude" over revenues pegged at between $115 billion and $118 billion.

Boggs added: "I would think that both parties, having committed themselves to fiscal responsibility, will face up to such an issue. I just don't believe that we would want a deficit of that proportion, particularly where the deficit is called for as a result of national defense commitments."

Dr. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under John F. Kennedy and Johnson, again urged a 5 per cent across-the-board income tax boost as a device to slow the economy.

On the NBC program "Meet the Press," Heller said Sunday a tax increase should be coupled with an easing of interest rates. He said this would not bring on a recession.

Heller, now a University of Minnesota economics professor, based his tax increase advocacy on a $20-billion increase in government spending, 4 to 5 per cent boost in plant spending and an increase in war costs of $10 billion to $12 billion.

50-50 Break on Foreign Policy Asked

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hold the cards which could divide the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee equally between critics and supporters of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies in the new Congress.

Their Senate ranks increased by three in the Nov. 8 election, Republican leaders are expected to demand greater party representation on foreign relations and other important committees.

Democrats now outnumber the GOP 13 to 6 on the Foreign Relations group headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark. Under the new party division of 64 to 36, the Democrats would be entitled to only 12 members.

There are no vacancies on the committee, however, and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have a way of compromising such matters.

An increase in membership to add one more Republican could open the way under the seniority system for Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, to claim the new spot if he chooses to do so. Most of the GOP members who outrank Cooper in length of Senate service seem already set with the committees of their choices.

As the committee now stands, it has 10 members who have given general support to Johnson's Viet Nam course and 9 who have been critical at times of the President's actions. Cooper falls in the latter category.

New Fear Of Naziism Rising in Germany?

WILLI STOPH
... in the East

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)

Kurt Georg Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic party's choice as West Germany's new chancellor, is a former Nazi who made good in the Western world.

Gen. Willi Stoph, the prime minister of Communist East Germany, is a former Nazi who made good in the Red world.

The tragic fact is that in both Germanys, West and East, there are still far too many ex-Nazis who hold positions of power two decades after Hitler's defeat.

There is, of course, an important difference between West Germany, which is an open and free society, and the closed, totalitarian society of East Germany.

In West Germany, politicians must function in the glare of world public opinion. Ex-Nazis who have attained power never had been charged with serious crimes. Most had been tried and cleared by de-nazification courts that were set up by the Allies after the war.

But the estimated 400 ex-Nazis, Hitler's hard core, who hold top government posts in Communist East Germany were never even tried. They simply exchanged their Nazi party cards for Communist party cards. Like chameleons, they have blended with their backgrounds.

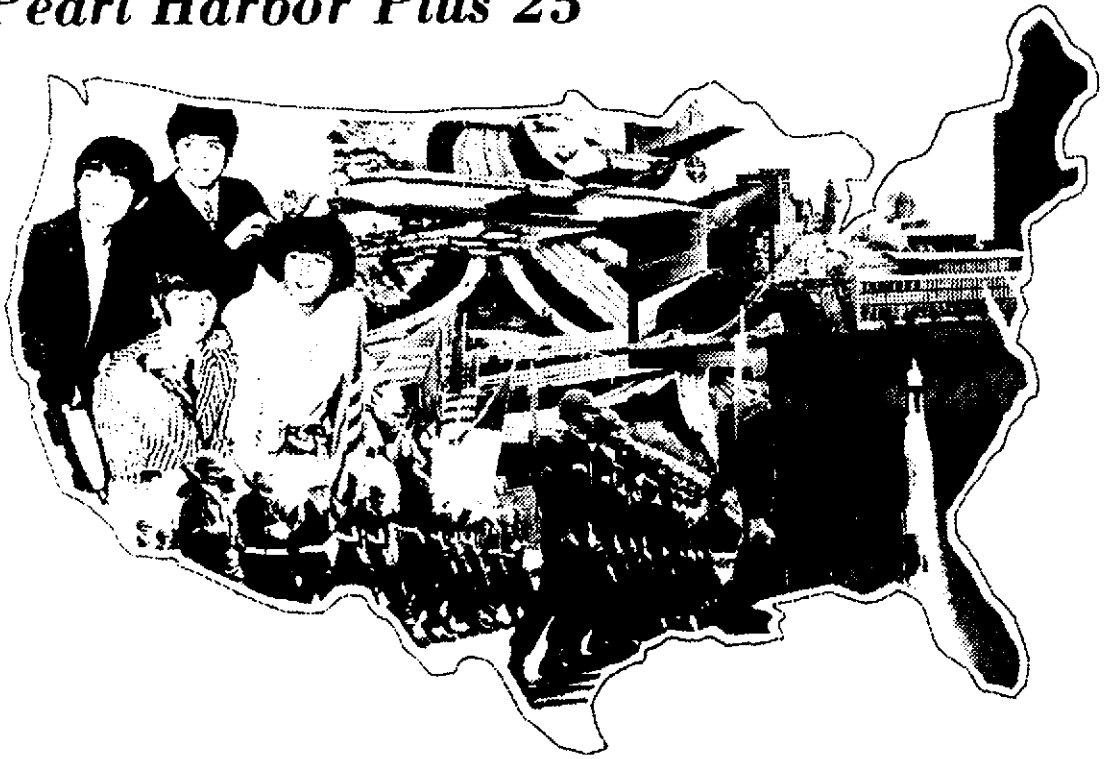

In the closed society of communism it is not easy to distinguish between Reds and Moscow's favorite Nazis.

Nevertheless, East or West, Hitler's former partisans—whether they are now Communists or fervent democrats—are still a serious threat to the free world.

A prominent West German leader who was one of the few genuine opponents of nazism predicted recently that one day the ex-Nazi fraternity of East and West will sit down at the conference table to discuss their favorite subject of German unity.

"There may already be a joint secret government in existence which will emerge from the underground at the proper moment," he said.

Pearl Harbor Plus 25

America in a Changing World

To a generation grown a little fat and bald, it seems like only yesterday when the bombs dropped on Pearl Harbor.

Was it really just 25 years ago, at a century past?

Today, all across this richest, most powerful nation on earth, the apocalyptic missiles stand in deep and silent silos, pointed towards the sky and waiting, waiting... for Armageddon?

The American population has increased by a third to about 200 million, even while birth control programs have been admitted to public society.

The superhighway and the suburban home have blossomed, and jet airplanes have taken over the skies.

Way, way out in the dark reaches of space, man-made satellites watch the earth with baleful eyes.

Infantile paralysis has been pushed into the limbo of half-forgotten plagues, leaving heart disease and cancer as public health bogies No. 1 and 2.

Not a gleam of anybody's eye a quarter of a century ago, the United Nations has changed the skyline of New York and the political attitudes of the world.

Back in 1911, the Beatles, miniskirts, the drug and discotheques have shaken up American mores and dictionaries.

The lunch counter sits still for these crazy kids have taken out the civil rights revolution with all the attendant school integration, Watts-type riots, and the anti-war registration.

Life in America has developed from a slow and flicker to the present state of man-made of every 10 households in the country has one or more TV sets.

The New Deal has been replaced as a subject for discussion and taxation by The Great Society. Anyway, discussions are no longer discussions but dialogues.

While automation has canceled out millions of jobs and threatened millions more, unemployment has sunk from 5.5 per cent in 1941 to 3.9 per cent just lately.

The federal government has entered boldly into the once sacrosanct field of education and, coincidentally, college enrollment has increased about five times to nearly 6 million.

U. S. government receipts rose from $7 billion in 1941 to $93 billion in 1965. At the same time, the people who are paying all those taxes have had to pay a lot more too for living expenses.

For instance, round steak that used to sell for 40 cents a pound was priced in a butcher shop the other day at $1.20. But then the buyers' incomes

London Theater Revolution: Cheapest Seats Down Front

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Shakespeare Company's new theater to be built in the financial section of London will put snobs in their place.

They will find that if they want to sit in the front row of the stalls (orchestra) they'll have to pay less and thus admit they want cheaper seats.

Peter Hall, managing director of the company, said his aim was to break down whatever snobbery there was in the belief that the front row had good seats. In fact, he said, they're abominable. The occupants have to crane their necks.

In the new theater these seats are to be the cheapest in the theater, Hall said they are to be filled with the "deserving and popular" audience that now sits up in the gallery.

GOLF CLUB LIGHTNING

STUTTERHEIM, South Africa (AP) — An African here is looking for a golf caddy who hits with the power of lightning.

The African, Bantu Nboyi, 13, was sitting against a tree when lightning struck it. He fell over unconscious.

Stutterheim golf club secretary Trevor Collett applied artificial respiration and rushed Nboyi to hospital. He was released after treatment.

Collett returned to the course and told Nboyi's friends: "He wanted to know which fellow African caddy had hit him on the head with a golf club. He will not believe he was struck by lightning."

Locks That Refuse to Work Aren't Useful for Anything

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Locks that do not work properly are little better than no locks at all. They can be worse. They can jam and leave you locked out or give you a false sense of security.

Locks that stick and otherwise misbehave may only need lubrication. In extreme cases repair or replacement may be in order.

Locks are classified according to the way they are installed. Rim locks are mounted on the surface of the door. The ordinary night latch is a rim lock.

Mortise locks are—as the name indicates—locks that are mortised in the edge of the door.

Tubular locks are also installed in the door but only two small holes—bored at right angles to each other—are required.

The cylinder is the part of the lock in which the key fits. It contains tumblers or movable pins that move out of the way when the right key is inserted.

The latch bolt is the movable part that sticks out of the door or the edge of the lock. The strike plate is the metal plate into which the latch bolt fits when the door is closed.

Lubrication Helps

Sticking may mean nothing more than that lubrication is in order. Use graphite—a powdered substance available at any hardware store—not oil to lubricate moving parts of a lock. Graphite generally is available in a plastic tube which, when squeezed, sends out a fine spray of the powder. Sprinkle some on the latch bolt and blow a little into the keyhole. Place some on the key and work the key in the lock several times. This should be done twice a year as preventative maintenance measure.

If lubrication doesn't help, check a few more items before removing the lock. If you are using duplicate keys that were newly made, these may be at fault. Try the original key again.

Is the lock newly installed? If it is, make certain the cylinder has been installed right-side up. If upside down, the springs will not work properly. Also, make certain the cylinder is in line with the lock housing.

Monday, November 28, 1966

Sometimes the key turns but the bolt won't budge. In the door is newly painted there may be paint on the latch bolt or on the strike plate.

A defective lock can be worse than none at all.

Kennedy Memorial

JERUSALEM (ISRAELI PRESS) — The Kennedy Memorial on a mountain top to the West of Jerusalem has become a site of pilgrimage for Americans visiting Israel. Many Israelis — and tourists in Israel — also come here to see the memorial. It was said of the impressive structure — a circular building on a hill — that it has the form of a mighty trunk of a fallen tree. Inside the memorial shrine, which is still empty — a small museum will be established to display documents and pictures of the history of Israel-American relations until the time of President Kennedy's death. The memorial, named in honor of President John F. Kennedy, stands where Bar-Kochbah was defeated in 135 AD with the collapse of the Jewish revolt against the Romans.

The Kennedy Memorial with the nearby Kennedy Forest was dedicated last July 4th, on the 190th American Independence Day. Chief Justice Earl Warren who headed the American Delegation, said that the erection of this memorial in the heart of the Land of the Bible is all the more appropriate as Kennedy was among the most ardent pursuers of the ancient biblical ideal of peace. The Kennedy Peace Forest will contain five and a half million trees, mostly Jerusalem pines. According to the official plan, this is to mean one tree for every American Jew. The Forest will form part of a green belt around Jerusalem — as it was during biblical times. The renewal of growth converting bare hills despoiled through long centuries of soil erosion is felt to be symbolic of the spirit of the late American President. The Jewish National Fund (Keren Kayemet) which initiated the double project of the memorial and the forest, chose this specific area because it is in the center of Judea, close to Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Hebron — the scene of so many biblical events. The heritage of the past here, thus becomes linked with the more recent memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

A Nelson Returns To Television

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—One day last spring, Rick Nelson woke up and was out of a job for the first time since he was eight years old.

But there's no reason to feel sorry for the handsome, polite and unassuming young man, who has a healthy bank account, a family and bright future.

"I have been busier since the show went off than I was before," he said.

"Our show," in case there's a Rip Van Winkle or two among you, was The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, which had a combined radio-Television run of 22 years.

The first television appearance for Rick since the demise of his series will come on the ABC Stage 67 production of "The Flip Side," set for Dec. 7. It's a musical fantasy. "I play a rock 'n' roll singer who is a has-been at 20, so some angels decide to come down and help me."

Many of the scenes were shot on location in New York, including one at the Heliport of the PanAm Building, which is the way most angels give.

Rick says he never had any great sense of loss when the series stopped production. "We broke every year for the summer, so when we stopped, it seemed like just another production break."

He also had a successful run as Finch in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" in a theater production in California.

It was not an ordinary day for the John Secondaris. They are both at home, he in the kitchen writing a script and she supervising lunch and playing with 18-month-old Linda. The Secondaris (she is Helen Jean Rogers and she lives in Linda everywhere she goes) are usually traveling the world for their ABC-TV documentary series The Saga of Western Man. They were the length of the Roman Empire and The Legacy of Rome.

Secondari, who narrates the shows as well as writes them, left his typewriter to rest. He was working on the legacy of Rome script. "The Christmas show is largely written," he said.

"By Matthew, Mark, Luke and John Secondari," Helen added. Despite the spate of documentaries on television, Secondari sees no lack of subject matter ahead.

"There is danger documentaries can lock themselves into repetition, which is what happened in the public affairs area. Everybody was doing shows on Negroes and teenagers. All along the dial, viewers saw the same thing. But there is plenty in the area of history. I think if there were a concerted effort by producers along this line, eventually it would bore viewers to tears. But there are damn few producers who can do this kind of thing."
